They will use critical-thinking and communication skills to investigate the historical roots of contemporary issues and present their conclusions.

Prerequisite: Any university or university/college preparation course in Canadian and World Studies, English, or social sciences and humanities.

How This Course Supports the Ontario Catholic School Graduate Expectations

One of the strongest themes found in the teachings of the Catholic Church concerns social justice. This theme encourages the examination of a number of issues in this course. The respect for human rights includes the respect for individual rights, indigenous people's rights, labour rights, women's rights, and cultural group rights and the liberation of the oppressed. The teachings of Christ concerning the need for community are reflected in the West and its relationship to the wider world in its constant struggle to define and redefine that community. This course presents students with historic issues faced by the West and interprets them in light of the Gospel teachings. Students recognise that there are certain Gospel values such as social justice values that transcend history and are still relevant for the future. Students recognise that the story of the West and the World is not simply about dates, events, and personalities, but also involves the struggle to incorporate values in the face of rapid changes and challenges.
